AMTRAN TECHNOLOGY CO., LTD.: 2007 CONTRACT MANUFACTURING PROFILE

Published on December 2007

Report Summary

AmTran Technology Co., Ltd. (Taiwan, Republic of China) is a major provider of >>Flat-panel displays: a-->h, Electronics manufacturing services (EMS), FPD (flat panel display) TVs, and other products. THT's reports include essential information for OEMs, importers, buyers and distributors. Our company profile reports have three primary focuses: general company information, company contract manufacturing activities, and company financial performance. General company information includes company contact information, a list of product lines, company brands and brands ranking. In addition, each company profile includes analyst notes on the general state of company performance and future plans. In terms of contract manufacturing activities, THT's reports detail company customer relationships, recent contract manufacturing deals, and sub-contracts, and have special sections devoted to contract manufacturing activities in China. Further, our reports provide information on company manufacturing facilities (locations, products and capacities). Financial performance data generally includes quarterly and annual data on shipments, sales, and revenues from 2001 through the current year forecast, gross profit margin, and product mix. We also provide available data on company shareholders, investments and acquisitions, distributors and affiliates, and conclude the financial section with analyst notes on the company's financial state and investments plans. Because THT's company profiles are drawn from a database that is continually growing, the exact data set included in each profile varies. For precise information on the data fields included in the most current version of this profile, please see the Table of Contents.
